

Contributors

This report on military resale system contributions to the Family, to the Department of Defense, and to the Nation, was prepared by the Military Resale and MWR Center For Research

The following individuals prepared the report with responsibility for supplemental materials posted along with it on the Center For Research's website (www.resaleresearch.org).

Executive Oversight and Development

Patrick Nixon

Director of Research

The Military Resale and MWR Center for Research

Patrick Nixon is recognized as an expert in federal agency management and international business operations. He served as a key architect in the establishment and stand up of a new Department of Defense Agency. Demonstrated exceptional leadership and dedication as the head of a Defense Agency. Recognized by both the Secretary of Defense and the President of the United States for exceptional leadership and performance. Currently serves as the CEO of a not-for-profit trade association consisting of some of the largest consumer package goods companies in America. Collectively the member companies contribute over $1.2 Trillion to the U.S. economy. Provided frequent expert testimony before the House Armed Services Committee on government operations and agency performance.

Stephen Rossetti

Director of Research, Legislative, and Regulatory Issues

The Military Resale and MWR Center for Research

Mr. Rossetti is an expert in supporting the U.S. Congress, Federal Agencies, and the Department of Defense. As a former senior staff member of the House Armed Services Committee and as director of the Readiness Subcommittee staff, Mr. Rossetti provides expert advice and research support to the Resale and MWR Center for Research. As director of the Readiness Subcommittee staff, he was responsible for the oversight of the Department of Defense infrastructure and combat readiness, including special operations forces, National Guard and Reserve preparedness, chemical and biological weapons preparedness and response, and missions other than war such as counter-drug and counter-terror. In 1998, the White House appointed Mr. Rossetti to reform Pentagon business processes, including service as Chairman of the Defense Travel Board to overhaul the Department's travel and relocation services for its employees. During his tenure with the U.S. Federal government, Mr. Rossetti worked with the Senate and House Government Reform Committees, Budget Committees, Armed Services Committees, Appropriations Committees, and various Federal Agencies. In 1996, Mr. Rossetti was appointed Executive Director for Morale, Welfare and Recreation and Resale Activities in the Office of the Secretary of Defense where he oversaw on-base military businesses. In 1999, Mr. Rossetti was appointed to serve as the Director of the Department of Defense integrated travel and relocation office. Mr. Rossetti has received several honors for his service from the Congress, the President, and the Secretary of Defense.

Research & Writing

William L. Blumberg

Principal

Federal Contract Solutions

Mr. Blumberg is principal of the consulting firm Federal Contract Solutions, which specializes in helping Federal government contractors resolve payment problems and related contract administration issues. After an extensive Federal career he was a vice president of LESCO, a logistics contractor, leading their Washington D.C. office. Prior to joining LESCO he had almost 31 years of Federal service. His last government position was at the Defense Finance & Accounting Service (DFAS) Headquarters Contract Pay Directorate staff. Areas of activity included Prompt Pay compliance, re-engineering of the Defense Commissary Agency payment procedures, mandatory Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) implementation and related items such as Central Contractor Registration (CCR) and 1099 MISC reporting compliance. He served as the DOD ombudsman for contractors with payment problems. Mr. Blumberg was also a member of the interagency Federal Contractor Tax Compliance Taskforce and the Contract Finance Committee, which writes the contract payment sections of the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR). He came to DFAS in April 1991 after serving on the Corporate Information Management (CIM) study. His CIM participation involved developing a complete inventory and assessment of DOD accounting systems and their related functionality and interfaces. Prior to the CIM he was on the Office of Secretary of Defense Comptroller staff for 13 years. There he also worked on Prompt Pay issues, as well as cash management and program oversight of the overseas contract banking program. He started government service with the Navy Accounting & Finance Center. He is a graduate of the George Washington University.

Editing and Publishing

Joshua Frank

Principal

RSM Federal

Mr. Frank is principal and owner of RSM Federal, a public sector consulting firm that supports the Military Resale and MWR Center for Research. Mr. Frank serves on the Board of Directors for the St. Louis Veterans Business Resource Center (VBRC) and serves as Director of Program and Digital Strategy for two national coalitions in Washington DC supporting military patrons, Veterans, and their Families. He is a former military intelligence officer with graduate degrees from Webster University and Walker School of Business.